3 Grammar First conditional

First conditional sentences describe real possibilities. Use the present tense in the if clause (the condition). Use will in the main clause.

If we take public transportation, we'll save money.
If we take public transportation, we won't get stressed out.
Air pollution will get worse if we don't reduce the number of cars.
Use modal verbs (may, might, or could) in the main clause when you're not certain about the results.
If air pollution gets worse, more people may get sick.
If you don't fix your leaky faucet, you might get a high water bill.
You could spend money on other things if you grow your own food.

A Write first conditional sentences with the two clauses. Then compare with a partner.

- you'll use 60 percent less energy / you replace your regular lightbulbs with CFLs
I don't save 60 percent less energy if you replace your regular lightbulbs with CFLs.
- you may save lots of money / you don't use less paper
- we fix our leaky faucets / we'll save water
- there won't be much air pollution / everyone uses hybrid cars
- you use a clothesline / other people may start to do the same
- we use rechargeable batteries / we could save a lot of money

B Pair work What else will or may happen for each condition in Part A? Discuss your ideas.

- What else will happen if you replace your regular lightbulbs with CFLs?
- If I replace my regular lightbulbs with CFLs, I'll have cheaper electric bills.

4 Speaking Around the circle

A Write a sentence about what will happen if you change a habit to become greener. If I grow my own food, I will eat better.

B Group work Sit in a circle. Go around the circle and share your ideas. Repeat your classmates' main clauses as conditions, and add new ideas.

- If I grow my own food, I will eat better.
- If you eat better, you will feel healthier.
- If you feel healthier, you won't need to go to the doctor very often.

5 Keep talking!

Go to page 140 for more practice. I can talk about future possibilities.
